

Workshop:

Micro expressions based on Dr. Paul Ekman

Knowing how to read and interpret micro expressions is an essential part of understanding nonverbal behavior and reading people.

All around the globe we express the same seven universal emotions with micro expressions: disgust, anger, fear, sadness, happiness, surprise and contempt. They often occur as fast as 1/25 of a second.

- Knowing the 7 basic Emotions
- Decoding of facial micro expressions
- Spot concealed emotions
- Improve your emotional intelligence
- Hands-on Training
- Decoding of postures and gestures
- Enhance your relationships in private, work and business
- Develop your capacity of empathy
- The Analyses of the micro, macro and subtle expressions as well as the application in psychotherapy, forensic and clinical psychology, business, Law Enforcement, etc.
- Hands-on Training

This workshop is available for everyone that is working with people and want to improve their interactions by knowing what the other person is not showing openly, or isn't even conscious about it himself. Settings would be: therapy, social work places, class room, interviews, business, meetings, etc.

The workshop is provided in English language with the possibility to get explications in German language if needed.

Due to the situation of COVID-19 an to ensure the safty and health of everybody, the workshop will be splitted in two parts, one Online-Webinar (original date) an one day at the Traumainstitut in October for hands-on Training.
